

Local shredding company award finalist for service

Silver Bullet gets nod in Better Business Bureau's Torch Awards competition

Burnaby Now
Wednesday, March 11, 2009

Silver Bullet Shredding was one of the recent finalists in the Better Business Bureau's Marketplace Excellence Torch Awards for Mainland B.C.

According to the Mainland B.C. Better Business Bureau's website, the Torch Awards are for companies that show "superior character on a daily basis" and go further in relationships with customers, employees, suppliers, industry peers and their communities.

The Marketplace Excellence award "is presented to a business in recognition of (its) superior commitment to exceptional standards" to all those it interacts with.

Silver Bullet Shredding, which is based on Byrne Road in Burnaby, does both on- and off-site shredding and specialty shredding for its customers.

In addition to being a member of the Burnaby Board of Trade and Better Business Bureau, Silver Bullet belongs to the National Association for Information Destruction and the B.C. Crime Prevention Association.

The Torch Awards included the Marketplace Excellence award, along with the Green Award, which was presented in partnership with B.C. Ethics in Action; the Advancing Marketplace Trust Award and the Consumer Leadership Award.

The awards were presented last fall at the Four Seasons Hotel in Vancouver.